It seems the Arkansas fever has taken a sudden hold upon the colored population of this section. On Monday evening about forty of them—men, women and children poarded the train for Little Rock. A Lowndesville correspondent of the Abbeville Press and Banner says : "The time is drawing near when our people are to vote on the tax for the construction of the Savannah Valley Railroad. narrow but singular escape from a serious conflagration. Mr. Irvine Twitty, who rooms in the Waverly House, retired to bed and left a few embers in his fire-place. A brick had, by some means, been removed fcom its place in the hearth. Some time during the night a coal or spark lodged in he hole, and after burning eight or ten inches square in the ceiling of Mr. J. M. Hubbard's store, the fire went out of its own accord. No alarm was given, as no one, not even Mr. Twitty, knew anything of it until next morning.

"Richland," the Columbia correspondent of the Augusta Chronicle and Constitutionalist, in a recent letter to that paper, says : "I have just seen a handsome picture of several fine Jerseys, of the splendid herd owned by Hon. B. F. Crayton, of Anderson. They are photographs of 'Esquire McBee,' No. 6,387; 'Nataline,' No. 15,019; 'Sir Julian,' No. 2,293; 'Kate Tyson,' No. 17,522; and 'Belle of Broadmore,' No. 18,043. They are beautiful animals, and any man who can look at these pictures and not disobey the Tenth Commandment s too good for this world."

The dwelling house of Mr. R. A. Huskerson, who resides twelve miles West of this city, on Seneca River, was destroyed by fire on last Monday afternoon. Mrs. Hunnicutt, an old lady who resided with Mr. Huskerson, was the only person in the house at the time, the family being away from home. She was burned to doath: Nothing but her heart and a portion of her settling there. bowels were left to tell the tale of her horrible death. The fire was not discovered he bride's brother, Mr. R. R. Beaty, by until everything within its reach was consumed. Nothing is known as to its origi nation. Mr. Huskerson is a worthy, hardworking man, and his loss is quite heavy. The Abbeville Press and Banner says that Mrs. Hunnicutt was an excellent lady, and her horrible death is lamented by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Whipped to Death.

One of the most horrible and atrocious crimes we have ever had to chronicle in our experience occurred in Fork township. this County, on Wednesday of last week. We are indebted to Mr. J. W. Bailey, of that township, for the particulars, which are about as follows:

For some time past John Bonds, a wellto-do negro, has had in his employ, as a nurse, a little negro boy named Hampton Craft, who is about seven years of age. The little boy, it seems, began to grow thin and look pale, and his mother complained to Bonds that he was not getting enough to eat. Bonds said that he would not eat, and on Wednesday morning concluded he would force him to eat. Accordingly, he procured a seasoned hickory limb and began giving the boy a flogging. The boy creamed and begged for mercy, and his cries soon attracted the attention of some neighbors, who went to his resous and made Bonds cease beating him. It was soon discovered that the boy was seriously injured, and that night, after very intense uffering, he dled.

On Thursday morning Trial Justice Fant ummoned a jury and held an inquest over the deceased. Dr. W. K. Sharpe made a post mortem examination, and testified that the boy a death was the result of the whipping. After hearing other evidence, the ubstance of which is stated above, the jury, which was composed of both white and colored, rendered a verdict charging Bonds with the murder of the boy. One hundred and fifty-six whelps and gashes were counted on his person. The feeling in the community against Bonds is very strong, and it is said that his own color talked of lynching him. He has been committed to jail to await trial at the June Term of Court.

THE QUESTION OF THE MOUR! Where can I get a pair of good Shoes? is frequently asked, and when we reply that we have the best Shoes that can be made, our statement is many times not believed. Why? Just because people have lost confidence in all Shoes, and begin to think that there is no such a thing as a Shoe that will wear and satisfy the wearer. But we say all our many customers, who have tried our best Shoes, will gladly testify to the fact that we have Shoes, made to our order in Baltimore, which cannot be beaten in the United States for durability, elegance of fit, and perfection of workmanship; and furthermore we say that we guarantee every pair of our Ladies' and Misses Best Shoes. They must wear well, they must give you satisfaction, or we will refund the money. Decide for yourself whether you wish to buy a good Shoe or not-then come to us for the good ones.

we quote the following paragraph:

The demands of our country for a larger, more powerful, deedle, easily kept and more sightly horse for agricultural, family or general purpose, seems to be apparent to every casual observer. Our country is filling with improved labor-saving implements and machinery of all kinds, and our teams are inadequate to meet these improvements; or, in other words, we have the "carts before the horses." The desire of the progressive is to plow deeper and guard against drought, pull more at one load and go fewer times; get a decile horse for family driving and save expense of drivers; get a horse with good digestive powers, and he will eat less and always look better; get a horse built to stand hard work and move easily along the road, and he will always take kindly to his task, because he is c.
